

Species list for a User-Defined Polygon

Information from the National Biodiversity Data Centre downloaded from Biodiversity Maps on 12/12/12

Background

The National Biodiversity Data Centre is committed to the goals and principles of making biodiversity data openly and universally available. This commitment is given on the understanding that the provision of data will further the conservation of biological diversity.

This spreadsheet provides a summary of the data contained in the National Biodiversity Data Centre, maintained by the National Biodiversity Data Centre, for the given area of your query.

Use of this information is encouraged for decision making, research and sharing knowledge on Ireland's biodiversity. When using this information, please note:

- The information contained in this spreadsheet can only be considered a guide to the conservation importance or value of a given area, as the available data is unlikely to be systematic or complete.
  - Absence of records of threatened or protected species from an area does not imply that they are not present within the given area. Their absence may be due to lack of adequate surveys of the area.
  - The interpretation of the information generated in this query should be undertaken by a qualified ecologist to ensure its meaning is not misunderstood.
  - The use of this information for decision making should in no way be seen as a substitute for appropriate contemporary field survey. It can, however, be used to prioritise elements of biodiversity for more detailed study. Use of this information in reports or other published sources must be accompanied by an acknowledgement as follows: 'Information from the National Biodiversity Data Centre downloaded from Biodiversity Maps on [ insert date ].'
- The Centre would welcome notification to info@biodiversityireland.ie of any reports or other publications in which this summary information is used.
